

Your teachers and parents are already talking on Edsby.

Now, Edsby can help them meet in the real world.

It used to be that scheduling parent-teacher conferences meant a lot of paper, time and effort. Or, expensive standalone software—which usually didn't tie into your other systems. Introducing parent-teacher conference scheduling, directly in Edsby. The same Edsby your parents and teachers already use.

Edsby already knows everybody

Edsby knows about every class in your district, who the teachers are, who the students are and who their parents are. So it's easy for Edsby to facilitate the right parent teacher meetings. No extra system for you, your parents or teachers to learn, or extra SIS integration.

Accommodates everyone

Parents can book appointments themselves. But teachers and office staff can still book meetings on behalf of parents, and their bookings appear on teachers' & parents' calendars in real time.

Easy for teachers

When parent teacher conference time arrives, teachers can block out times they won't be available. Teachers receive an up-to-the-second dashboard of which meetings have been booked. They can print their final schedule so they know where they need to be, and when.

Smart scheduling

Customizable meeting slot lengths. Flexible break booking for teachers. Editable bookings. Printable appointment calendars and confirmation emails. There are plenty of intelligent scheduling features in Edsby.

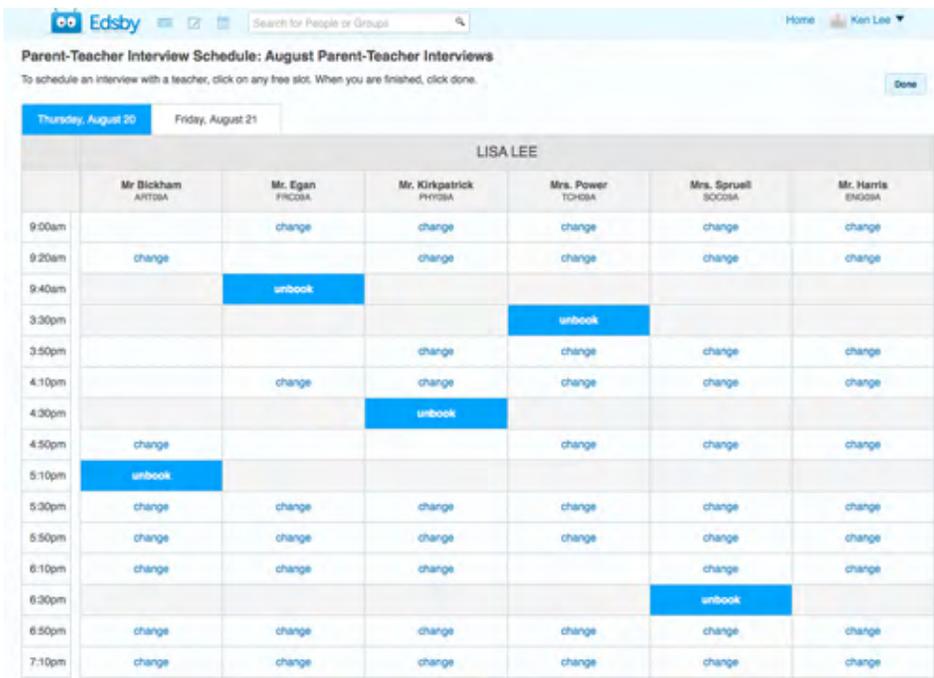

Gives parents power

Teacher conference invitations are integrated with the same instant Edsby messages parents already exchange with teachers. So parents get the same notification they're already used to. Parents can choose exact slots they want and know in real time if they're available.

Administrative help

Office admins can assist with bookings, and oversee schedules, with counts of booked, open and blocked slots. Admins can search by date, or monitor by teacher.

The screenshot shows a web interface for scheduling parent-teacher interviews. At the top, there's a search bar and navigation links. Below, it displays a calendar for 'LISA LEE' with columns for different teachers: Mr. Bickham, Mr. Egan, Mr. Kirkpatrick, Mrs. Power, Mrs. Spruill, and Mr. Harris. The rows represent time slots from 9:00am to 7:10pm. Some slots are marked 'change' or 'unbook'.
